Officers of the Office of Trade Relations and Public Communication and the Ports and Maritime Command delivered comprehensive presentations, highlighting the advantages of “Hong Kong Authorized Economic Operator Programme” (AEO) and “Free Trade Agreement Transshipment Facilitation Scheme” (FTA Scheme) respectively in terms of customs facilitation and their potential benefits for the industry.

As digital and electronic devices continue to proliferate, the HKAE0 programme plays a crucial role in empowering local traders to elevate their competitive edge, thereby unlocking a multitude of business prospects and untapped potential.
