Hong Kong Customs made a clarification today (February 8) that it has never arranged a public auction by means of a social media platform or a website to sell confiscated items. The department reminds members of the public to be alert and avoid being scammed. Photo shows a dedicated page on a social media platform, falsely claiming that Hong Kong Customs was making arrangements for selling a batch of confiscated smuggled electronic goods by means of public auction, with the proceeds from the auction to be used for charity purposes.
